JOB ANNOUNCEMENT:
Research Assistant – Fall 2018 & Spring 2019

The Global Development And Environment Institute (GDAE) is an interdisciplinary research center at Tufts that works to reform economic theory, transform the way economics is taught, and reshape policies to promote sustainable development. GDAE pursues its mission through original research and publications, curriculum development, conferences, and other activities.

POSITION DESCRIPTION
GDAE is hiring one or more research assistants who will be working with researchers on climate change mitigation and solutions through enhancement of natural carbon sinks such as forests, wetlands, grasslands, and croplands. Projects will also focus on the upcoming 24th Session of the Conference of the Parties to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC COP24, December 2018). This is an 8-10 hour/week position. Pay will be $11-15/hour depending on experience. Students with work-study funding preferred. A commitment through May 2018 is required.

JOB QUALIFICATIONS
- Organized, reliable, and detail-oriented individual
- Proficiency with Microsoft Office including Excel, PowerPoint and other graphics software
- Environmental science or environmental economics background a plus

TO APPLY
Send a resume and cover letter to monica.barros@tufts.edu. Please indicate if you have been awarded work-study at Tufts, how long you can commit to working with GDAE, and your weekly schedule availability.

Applications will be considered on a rolling basis. This posting will be removed from the GDAE website when the position is filled.
