

An Invitation to Faculty
2008 CONNECT Service-Learning Workshop
June 19 & 20 2008
9:00am to 3:00pm
Cape Cod Community College Hyannis Center

The 3rd Annual CONNECT Service-Learning Workshop will be held this summer on Cape Cod to help faculty from Bridgewater State College, Bristol Community College, Cape Cod Community College, Massasoit Community College, Mass Maritime Academy and UMASS/Dartmouth develop service-learning components in their classes and help them learn more effective methods of reflection to enhance the service-learning experience. The workshop will take place in two half-days at Cape Cod Community College's Hyannis Center, 540 Main Street, Hyannis to combine an interesting faculty development program with optional recreation and vacation activities on the Cape.

We are pleased to announce that this summer's workshop will be facilitated by Dr. Dwight Giles of UMass Boston, who is an international scholar in the area of service-learning. The focus of this workshop will be on improving the reflection skills that we bring to the classroom. The workshop will include a service opportunity with an institution on the Cape, giving participants concrete experiences on which they may practice reflection.

CONNECT workshop participants will be awarded a $100 stipend by their institutions. Each CONNECT college is invited to send 5 faculty members to participate and will be appointed by their institutional Chief Academic Officer. Additional spaces will be offered to Massachusetts Campus Compact members on a space available basis. Breakfast and lunch will be provided each day. Please send your registration form to: b1george@bridgew.edu or fax the form to the Community Service Center at Bridgewater State College at (508) 531-4446. Registration deadline is June 6, 2008.

Optional housing information will be available shortly.

For further information, please contact Nancy Moses or Diane Bell at (508) 531-2446 in the Community Service Center at Bridgewater State College.
