The Global Development And Environment Institute presents

Sustainable Development in Asia

Nathan Perry, Assistant Professor at Colorado Mesa University
Sara Hsu, Assistant Professor at SUNY New Paltz

Friday, December 5
12:30 – 2:00 pm

Tufts University Fletcher School, Cabot 703
160 Packard Ave, Medford, MA 02155

Refreshments will be served
RSVP: http://AsianSustainableDev.eventbrite.com

The authors will discuss their recent book series examining sustainable development in six countries in Asia, including China, Taiwan, Japan, and South Korea. They will explore various social, economic, and environmental regulations and practices related to issues of biodiversity, income inequality, healthcare, and water pollution and consumption. The authors will review progress in these areas and compare each pair of countries to highlight policy recommendations.

For more information, contact Erin Coutts at Erin.Coutts@tufts.edu or 617-627-6909, or see: http://www.ase.tufts.edu/gdae/events.html